

KILLED AT THE BUTTS.

A NATIVE MARKER ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

The Coroner's Jury Finds That He Came to His Death by Reason of His Own Negligence.

A sad accident occurred at the grounds of the Hawaiian Rifle Association on Saturday afternoon by which a native boy named Hanuwela met with his death under distressing circumstances. The deceased was employed by the Association as a marker, and it was while acting in that capacity that he came to his death. During the shooting the markers are supposed to stay behind the bulkhead, which at the 500 yard range was formed by a double framework of two-inch plank placed four feet apart, the intervening space being filled with sand. It was part of Hanuwela's duty to see that this bulkhead was always in proper condition and if not to report to the Range Committee. The target is placed a little to the right of the bulkhead and the marker draws it to him behind the bulkhead after each shot so that he can point out the spot made by the bullet and report the score made without exposing his person. The marker has also a flag on the bulkhead, by lowering which he can immediately stop the shooting. A heavy fine is imposed on any member of the Association who should fire at the target while the flag is up.

The story of the affair can be gathered from the testimony taken at the Coroner's inquest held yesterday morning, when the following jury was impaneled by Acting Coroner Brown, viz: W. H. Tell, John Pie Kuolila, D. L. Naone, Albert McGurn, J. K. Iosepa and J. L. Naone.

John Kidwell was the first witness and testified: "I was at the range yesterday. My shot was marked by the boy. Martin fired and no response. It may have been that the shot went astray or went through and killed the boy. Garterberg shot and no answer. He challenged his shot by ringing the bell for the boy. Dodge rang the bell several times, but received no answer. After Garterberg's shot I saw the disc fall down. I thought then that it was the careless handling of the disc, so gave no further thought of it. I shot again and hit the bullseye. No response. Then I was sure something was wrong. So Dodge went down and found the boy. He called us down. It is the usual thing for the boys to see to putting up the targets, flags, etc., themselves, and when anything is wrong the boys' duty is to report the fact to the Range Committee."

A. Garterberg sworn: I was at the range. Kidwell fired and was answered. Martin shot and no answer. I fired and then the disc fell down. I challenged the shot and received no response. Kidwell fired at the boy out but no mark for his shot was given. The bell was rung and no answer. Dodge went down and found the boy dead. He waved at us to come down.

G. Karratti sworn: I was one of the markers at 200 yard target. Have been marker for some years. The markers themselves see that their respective targets and bulkheads are all right. It is their duty to report first whether anything needs repair. I have made reports already as to my targets and it was always attended to. I was at the 500 yard target when it was first empty and no shooting took place then.

Frank S. Dodge, sworn—Am acquainted with deceased. Am acquainted with him to be there yesterday. Told him to get everything ready at 1:30 p. m. for the 500 yard target. He put up everything, placed the flag in the bulkhead and reported the fact. He always put the flag on the windward side of the box, but this time he put it in the middle. He was there all the while we were shooting at the 200 yard target. After the shooting, as described by the other witnesses, I rode to the bulkhead and found the boy lying cramped up. I believe he was already dead then. I left him as I found him and signaled to the others to come up. It is about three or four months ago that the bulkhead was last repaired. I examined it about three weeks ago and found it all right. The use of the flag is to warn fishermen and others, and also to show the direction of the wind. It is impossible to say which of the unanswered shots killed the boy.

David W. Corbett, who was acting as scorer, gave similar testimony to the above.

The jury rendered a verdict that the said Hanuwela came to his death on the 26th day of August, 1893, in Honolulu, Oahu, by a bullet through the heart, said bullet having been fired by one of certain persons who were engaged in shooting at a certain target at that time and which the said Hanuwela was marking the bulkhead on account of a portion of the sand ballast having leaked out and behind which the boy was standing. Said bullet striking the boy in the back, penetrating the heart, and coming out of the breast, causing instant death. Said accident being caused by the neglect of the said Hanuwela to report to the "Range Committee" the unsafe condition of said bulkhead, which it was his duty to do.

Much sympathy is extended to the relatives of the unfortunate boy by the members of the association, by whom he was much liked for his intelligence, obliging manners and genial disposition. The report in a morning paper that his funeral expenses were borne by the Provisional Government is incorrect.

rect, as the Government is not connected with the affair in the slightest degree. The funeral and other expenses will be paid by the Hawaiian Rifle Association.

CIRCUIT COURT MATTERS.

Judge Whiting and Jury Occupied in Trying Appeal Cases.

The first hour of the morning session was occupied in arranging cases for trial, so that the jury might not be kept in court needlessly.

At 10 o'clock the case of the Provisional Government vs. Ah Ching, an opium case appealed from the District Court, was taken up and a jury impaneled. Deputy Attorney-General Wilder for the prosecution and Davidson for the defendant.

The case ended in a verdict of guilty. During the progress of the trial the defendant was adjudged guilty of contempt of court in whispering to one of the witnesses.

The opium appeal case of Ah Law is on trial this afternoon. Carter and Carter for the defense.

Ah Fong and Ah Haw pleaded guilty to an affray and were fined $15 each.

Awan pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license, and was fined $100. In the opium appeal case of Ahaw, Ah Hun and Ah Song, the latter pleaded guilty and the two latter were nolle prosequi.

In the case of T. K. R. Amalu vs. the Kona Coffee and Fruit Company, the defendant corporation has filed its answer in the shape of a general denial.

In the case of J. F. Bowler vs. H. E. McIntyre, the plaintiff has filed a bond on appeal to the Supreme Court in the sum of $3000.

The case of Woodruff vs. Ah Kai Kow has been reinstated on the calendar at the request of the plaintiff.

In Judge Cooper's court the assumption of Bishop & Co. vs. C. E. Williams et al is on trial before a jury. Mr. Damon being on the witness stand for the plaintiffs.

Dazzled by Ex-Royalty.

Thomas J. Barke, a Colorado miner who stayed at Sans Souci during the early summer, is writing Royalist letters to a wild western paper. Tommy's last communication opened the eyes of the evasive social leaders of Gauge Eye and Louisville to his glittering social position here. See this:

"I have just received an invitation from the Queen for my wife and self to call at 11 A. M. to-morrow, and we have accepted the invitation. She has received no one but close friends of the family since her dethronement, and this is a favor which I am greatly pleased to take advantage of, and of which visit I will write you in my next." Tommy is now looked upon as the Ward MacAllister of the Woolly West.

Police Court Items.

In the case of J. Rosa, charged with assault with a weapon, a nolle prosequi was entered and the defendant discharged.

The same course was taken in the case of S. Kamihaua and J. Kaluona, charged with gambling.

A number of drunks paid the usual fine and costs, and Ah Chang, charged with keeping a disorderly house, had his trial set for to-morrow.

A huckman named M. Jesus was fined $5 and costs for driving at night without carriage lights.

A number of other cases went over to suit the convenience of attorneys who were engaged in the Circuit Court.

Tug-of-War on Saturday.

A final tug-of-war has been arranged between the Fishmarket and Honolulu Iron Works teams to take place next Saturday for a purse of $200. The affair will probably come off at the baseball grounds, as it is said the kahuna has got in their deadly work on the localities formerly chosen, and unless an entirely new place is picked out, the fishmarket team will be "hoodooed." A large amount of money has already been bet on the outside, and more are awaiting takers.

The Kinney-McBryde Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Alice McBryde, daughter of the late Judge McBryde of Kauai, to W. A. Kinney, a well-known member of the Honolulu bar, took place last Thursday morning at the residence of the bride's mother at Wahiawa. Rev. H. Isenberg tied the nuptial knot; A. W. Carter of this city acting as best man, while the bride was given away by her brother.

Adjudged to Be Insane.

The examination of Margaret Lidgate on the charge of insanity took place on Saturday afternoon at the residence of A. F. Cooke. On the testimony of Dr. Andrews, her brother and others, she was adjudged insane by Judge Robertson and committed to the asylum.

THE FIRE BUGS AT WORK.

MIDNIGHT CRIME ON THE ISLE OF MAUI.

Attempt to Burn the Office of the Wailuku Sugar Company—A White Suspect.

On Thursday night of last week an attempt was made to burn the office of the Wailuku Sugar Company at Wailuku, Maui. The building is a one-story frame and entrance to it was had by breaking in the door. After gaining admittance the incendiary gathered all the loose papers, letters, etc., about the office and placed them in a pile, pouring a quantity of coal oil over them. After setting the pile on fire the man left. The pile of paper, however, burned out too soon to catch the building and the incendiary was foiled in his purpose. The safe, furniture and walls in the immediate vicinity of the fire were badly scorched and the smell of coal oil was quite apparent when the building was entered next morning. As the plantation manager's house was burned down only a short time since the officers of the Company have reason to believe that both fires must have been started by some one who has a grievance against them, out of revenge, and suspicion is already directed to one person, a white man.

STRAY SHOTS LAST NIGHT

Cause Telephone Messages of Inquiry From the Boston.

There is more or less stray shooting going on at night in the vicinity of the Executive Building, whether from the careless handling of guns in the hands of the Government troops or outsiders is not known. Anyhow, a shot was fired about half-past nine last night in the immediate neighborhood of the building, and another one at about 6 A. M. Numerous messages were sent to the telephone office, to inquire who was doing the shooting, and a message was also received from the Boston asking about it. The parties responsible for this promiscuous firing should be sat down upon.

A Letter From a Donkey.

"Editor Bulletin: As the Queen is to be restored again in a short time by the powers at Washington, the Advertiser and Star will no doubt use their influence with the P. G. to shut up shop and proclaim a holiday the 2d of September—that being the Queen's birthday. We expect to see the Advertiser and Star with their staffs coming back the horse named Queen L. with their last dollar, while shouting glory hallelujah. That stock of mortals always turn with the tide: the poor fellows can't help it, it comes natural like. We hope they won't be so carried away with enthusiasm, that they will imbibe too freely of the juniper while at the races. They can have plenty of enjoyment, and at the same time honor the Queen without going into extremes. KNICKERBOCKER."

THE CHANGE OF FRONT.

What Senator MacArthur Says in the Troy "Budget."

The New York Herald all along with its co-responder N. rdhoff has been prophesying, laboring and conspiring for the restoration of the deposed Queen of Hawaii to her lost throne. In this attempt to put heathenism above American Christian civilization they have been heartily seconded by Claus Spreckels, the Sugar King, who only last week returned from Honolulu professing that the Queen would be speedily restored. On the very day after the Herald printed this prognostication its Washington correspondent sent an authentic dispatch on Hawaiian affairs that must have sent an Arctic shiver up the backs of its two anti-annexation co-partners, Nordhoff and Spreckels. We publish this Herald dispatch elsewhere, which pretends to speak by authority to the effect that Cleveland and his officials, having recognized the Provisional Government, cannot now authorize the restoration of the Queen nor give any aid to that end. Also that a treaty with Hawaii will be sent to the Senate in September, and that the United States will go so far at least as to establish a protectorate over Hawaii, preventing pressure from or annexation by any foreign power. In fact, insuring the independence of Hawaii by a protectorate. This being so, the thought is not admissible that the protector which had a treaty with the Provisional Government would permit it to be overthrown by any internal conspiracy or revolution. But without such protection the Provisional Government is unquestionably able to sustain itself and hold its own against any assaults that can be made against it emanating or carried on by the people of the Islands. Its only danger and menace are from outside nations. The United States having recognized the Provisional Government and sent a minister to it is even now bound to stop any attempt to send arms or aid from our shores to aid in revolutionary movements against the present Hawaiian Government, and would be very much more bound to do so in case of a Protectorate. Well, an American Protectorate is a long step toward annexation, and our flag pulled down by Blount, will be there to protect the Islands from all dangers coming from without, and it is in no danger of revolution from within. The Herald having confessed so much is evidently preparing for a change of front in its anti-annexation attitude. We expect to see the time come when the Herald with its accustomed modesty will claim all the credit for the annexation of Hawaii, which is sure to come in the not very remote future. The New York Advertiser thus sums up the situation:

"A Washington dispatch says that Mr. Cleveland will send a message to Congress on the Hawaiian question. He will not favor annexation, but will suggest a treaty involving the moral and of our Government as against foreign interference in Sandwich Island affairs. Having recognized the Provisional Government he will not urge the restoration of the monarchy—that is, will let the patriotic party in Hawaii work out its own salvation. This is about all that was to be expected of Mr. Cleveland, but what must be the feelings of Spreckels and Nordhoff?"

Claudine For Maui—Vessels Loading at Humboldt Bay—Regular Sunday Fleet Items.

From the following it would seem that these vessels are not due here:

Both the bark Leahi and barkentine Mary Winkelman are under charter to load redwood at Eureka for Sydney, the former at $1 15s and the latter at $1 17s 6d. Winds are light and fogs prevail at this season, and freights for lumber vessels are not excessive or numerous, to draw it mildly. The owners of the vessels are not going to take chances, therefore, and to-morrow both vessels will sail for Humboldt Bay in tow of a staunch tug boat, which should insure their reaching destination in time to hold their charters.—San Francisco Shipping News, Aug. 15.
